“Mr. Herbert W. Armstrong loves and admires Jerusalem ...for him Jerusalem is the symbol of the great past and the hope of a better future” – that was how Prof. Benjamin Mazar described his very special friend at a 1974 banquet honoring Mr. Armstrong as an international ambassador for world peace without portfolio.

Mr. Armstrong shared that same love and admiration with Prof. Mazar, and his unwavering support to the Temple Mount Excavations was granted in light of his firm faith in the prophecy of Isaiah (Isaiah 2:2–3):

The mountain of the Lord’s temple will be established as the highest of the mountains; it will be exalted above the hills, and all nations will stream to it.

Many peoples will come and say, ‘Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the temple of the God of Jacob. He will teach us his ways, so that we may walk in his paths.’

For the Torah will go out from Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

Together, Mr. Armstrong and Prof. Mazar sought to reveal the greatness and the monumental splendor of ancient Jerusalem.

Hence, this publication project of Prof. Benjamin Mazar's excavation results revealing the magnificent 2000-year-old Great Arch Structure of the Temple Mount is wholeheartedly dedicated to the memory of the iron-bridge friendship between Mr. Herbert W. Armstrong and Prof. Benjamin Mazar, a joint legacy that continues to this day.
